sure to provoke considerable discussion. The arguments of General Roe and those who are with him that the parade if started later than 11 o'clock cannot be dismissed before long after dark will be met by the reports of the Sound Money and Grant Memorial pare des, which were started promptly at the time set, and finished equally close to schedule time.

General Butterfield is much opposed to any change in the plans as first laid down, and has written a long letter to his successor as chairman of the committee, Randolph Guggenheimer, expressing his conviction that the parade, if started at noon, will be finished before dark Four votes certainly, and probably more, of the twelve in the Committee on Plan and Scope are still in favor of the original programme. One of those in favor of it said last night that many the visiting Governors and other distinguished guests of the city come from some considerable distance, and will not be able to re main in New-York over Sunday and Monday. Nearly all of them have accepted invitations to the breakfast, and it will make the Reception Committee look and feel cheap if the only breakfast given is a pick-up feed during the twenty dirutes it will take a steamboat to run from Assembly, should be built. Warren-st, to One-hundred-and-twenty-ninthst. General Carroll, who has been asked to furnish a boat to take the party from down town, is responsible for the statement that the trip can be made in twenty minutes.

GENERAL ROE FIGHTING FOR TIME. General Roe from the first has been in favor of starting the parade from the Battery, with Grant's Tomb as the objective point, and it is not unlikely that he will present his scheme again to the committee to-day. It is all a question of time. General Roe admits that if the parade starts at 11 o'clock there is no danger of opposing the abundonment of the breakfast say not be started at that time, after the breakfast has been finished. The Army and Navy regulations provide that the soldiers and saliors shall have a midday meal, and that while they are

They will be provided seats on one of the Madison Square stands. Among the acceptances received yesterday were those of Mrs. Charles V. Gridley and Mrs. A. E. Gridley, the widow and mother of Captain Gridley, who commanded the Olympia at the battle of Manila Bay, Other acceptances were received from Commander Asa Walker and First Assist-nt Postmaster General Heath. Rear Admiral Schley also accepted. He wrote "It will give me much delight to be present to participate in the city's honor to the peerless Governor Reinhold Sadler of Nevada declined the invitation because of a previous engagement, but wrote that his State would be represented by Senators John B. Jones and W. M.

Among the applications for tickets received yesterday was a belated letter with the postmark Gibraltar. It was from one of the officers of the Olympia, who asked that four seats be reserved for his family. Captain Coghlan, of the Raleigh, also asked that four tickets be sent to him at the Waldorf.

SAYS SHAW MADE THE TROUBLE.

General Rose was not in the city yesterday, but at his office it was said the decision of the Grand Army not to march in the Dewey celebration ceremonies unless the right of the line be assigned to them would not embarrass the Committee on Land Parade at all. Major Holland, aide de camp to General Roe, and unofficially that he did not believe General Roe would make any afteration in the plans that have been approved by the Committee on Plan

Colonel H. H. Adams, at whose some the Grand Army was invited to participate in the parade, and who was detailed by General Roe to act as adjutant general of the Fourth, or unarmed Division, was outspoken in his critteism of the methods of Commander in Chief Albert D. Shaw of the Grand Army.

"I blame Shaw," he said, "for all this bother.

grand Army, and this is no jealousy, and the Grand Army one no right to ask for the right of the line. Of course the ad soldiers are entitled to the post of honor wherever they go, but they are old, many of them feeble, and they could not have led the parade, even had they been assigned a Act 8.

Signed to do 80.

"There was no trouble until Shaw came on. I explained to Joseph W. Kay, the Department Commander, General Roe's scheme for detailing the Grand Army of the Republic and he raised no objection. As a matter of fact it was after he knew that the Grand Army of the Republic was to have the right of the magned thouse. was to have the right of the unarmed troops and the left of the armed troops that he wont before the Committee on Stands and told the committee how pleased the old saddlers were to have an opportunity of honoring Dewey.

COMMANDER KAY APPARENTLY PLEASED "I informed Kay that General O. O. Howard would probably be assigned to command the that that would not interfere with the officers of his organization. The plan at that time was that the Fourth Division should include the Grand Army of the Republic, the Leval Legion the Medal of Honor men, the ex-Confederates, and the Veterans of the Spanish-American War, I explained, and my letter with all those details is on file, that only the Grand Army of the Republic posts of New-York City would be recognized.

There were no objections that I heard of Then Shaw came. He said that as Commander in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, the command should be given to him and that anyway the Grand Army of the Republic should not march except at the right of the line. I reported to General Roe and he said that it was out of the question. It was then suggested that the Grand Army of the Republic follow the National troops leading the National Guard. General Roe said that was equally out of the question, that the Plan and Scope Committee had approved the order of march, as arranged, and that he was sorry the Grand Army of the Republic was not satisfied.

"Colonel Shaw then said the Grand Army of the Hepublic would be content if a picked deathment of three hundred was put at the head of the line. Commander Kay and I took a message to that effect to General Roe, but did no good. General Roe said the arrangements made would not be altered. That is how matters stand now. I am not wanting in loyalty to the Grand Army of the Republic and beginner.

TORONTO HIGHLANDERS MAY COME. GENERAL ROE SETTLES ALL DOUBTS AS TO THEIR INVITATION.

General Roe has settled the doubts of the Toronto Highlanders in regard to the invitation they have received to take part in the parade. "The Totonto Globe," according to a dispatch received in this city, published a telegram from General Roe yesterday as follows:

They have been invited, and it is the hope of the committee that they will come.

NO REST FOR HOTEL CLERKS FARRAGUT VETERANS OUT.

THEY WITHDRAW FROM THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION TO FORM ANOTHER.

STEPS TAKEN TO ORGANIZE THE UNITED STATES VETERAN NAVY-THE SPLIT OVER SPAN-ISH-AMERICAN WAR VETERANS.

At a meeting of Farragut Association of Naval Veterans No. 2 of the Port of New-York, held last evening at the rooms of the association, No. 325 the members adopted resolutions with irawing from the National Association of Naval with which the association has for a ong time been ailled. URGING ON SHEEHAN.

WIDESPREAD FEELING OF HOSTILITY TO RICHARD CROKER.

LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS POUR IN UPON THE VICTOR IN THE FIGHT IN THE

IXTH-POLITICIANS DISGUSTED John C. Sheehan yesterday continued to receive telegrams and letters from Democrats in various parts of the country congratulating him upon his victory at the primaries in the IXth Assembly District on Tuesday, and enlictation and boss rule of Richard Croker in the Tammany organization. It is plain from the number of the messages which Mr. Sheehan has eccived that there is a widespread feeling of that Mr. Croker's power is waning has been strengthened greatly by Mr. Shochan's victory. Mr. Sheehan said yesterday that he was determined to punish the persons who tried to beat him by fraud at the primaries. "I shall start with the police," he said, "and try to find out who gave to them the bogus ballots to feliver to the election inspectors at the polls. When that is discovered we shall know who is responsible for the scheme. The police, of ourse, acted under the orders of somebody. I have consulted counsel on the subject, and I have been told that the primary law was violated by some person or persons. I shall follow up the case until the responsibility is fixed and the guilty are punished.

"I shall not spare one of the rascals against whom I can obtain evidence. I have obtained enough evidence to warrant me in proceeding against several men. The most flagrant case I know is that of William Glenny, a brother-inlaw of Chief of Police Devery, an election inspector at No. 219 Ninth-ave. He was the first man I found refusing to accept my ballots. He said he had received all the ballots from the Police Board, which does not give them out at | Hotel, on Wednesday evening, resolutions were of y on the occasion of the land parado. Now, however, it is said in Brooklyn all. The ballots he had were the Goodwin ticket fered to prevent the nomination of an independent and the bogus one with which Goodwin and Smith tried to fool people."

BOOMERANG FOR THE BOSS.

Mr. Croker's efforts to relieve himself of any responsibility for the defeat of his followers in the IXth Assembly District have amused the politicians and have angered those who were doing Mr. Croker's bidding in trying to overthrow Sheehan. Mr. Croker, now that the battle is over and his forces are routed, has asserted that he did not interfere; that he never interferes in district fights, and that Sheehan only had to contend with the natural influence of a faction opposed to him, which did not have the support of the organization.

When this statement was made politicians laughed heartily. Every one knows that Mr. Croker sent his own private secretary, Thomas F. Smith, to the aid of Councilman Goodwin in the fight against Sheehan, and that he has exerted every effort and every source of power he has at his command to defeat Sheehan. Sheehan men were dismissed from office with no explanation save that they were supporting Sheehan. Sheehan's election inspectors were thrown out, and Croker's men substituted. Policemen in civilian dress went through the district and warned shopkeepers, saloonkeepers, business men and others of swift reprisals by the police and the Tammany organization if they supported Sheehan. Central office detectives were assiduous in threatening and browbeating voters. Richard Croker's hand was revealed in every move made against Sheehan-and now e seeks to repudiate those who fought against Aside from holding himself up to the mirth and scorn of the politicians of the city. Mr. Croker has aroused the keenest resentment in the breasts of those who went into the district and made the fight for him. It is well known that Thomas F. Smith did not relish the task assigned to him. Mr. Smith is a quiet, inoffensive Tammany man, and has few enemies. He didn't want to take up the cudgel against Sheehan, but was ordered to do EVERY TURN.

with other organizations. Mr. Folks was said to be strong with the few labor organization voters in the XXIXth Assembly District.

An effort is being made to unite the Citizens Union organization and the independent Republicans in the XXVIIII District for the nomination of R. W. G. Welling as a candidate for Assemblyman or Alderman. The Citizens Union organization in the XXVIII District has decided to nominate Method. Paragon for Assemblyman. man or Alderman. The Citizens Un in the XXVth District has decid Herbert Parsons for Assemblyman.

CPENING OF OHIO CAMPAIGN.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 21.-Colonel Charles F. Dick, secretary of the Republican National Comence to the approaching campaign in Ohio.

Colonel Dick said that the opening Republican meeting at Akron on Saturday would undoubtedly be the greatest gathering of the kind in the history of the State. He added that President McKinley would deliver no set speeches on his Western trip, but would in all probability occasionally make brief but would in all probability occasionally a remarks from the rear platform of his

PRESIDENT ROMANA FREES PRISONERS. Lima, Sept. 21.—By order of President De Romana the political prisoners who arrived here yesterday from Cerro de Pasco have been liberated on parole. The President's prudence, tact and generosity cause his pepularity to increase. Last night the theatre was crowded with Italian and a few Peruvian families, and the President's appearance in his box was the signal for cheers. It is thought that his conduct, coupled with the good sense of the people, will soon re-establish peace and order in Peru.

Eduardo Lopez de Romana was proclaimed President of Peru, in succession to Nicolas de Pierola, by the Peruvian Congress on August 14, after the recent Presidential elections had been formally ap-proved.

Brokaw Bros. Top Coats.

The perticular man seeks individuality of style in a Top Coat perhaps more so than in his other garments.

Our fabrics, of course, are ex-clusive. And there is a nameless something about the cut and fis-ish that meets the approval of careful dressers. The new styles have all the Brokaw merits. ASTOR PLACE, Fourth Avenue.
